

Escorted Tour: ACROSS THE WILDERNESS

Small-Group Sightseeing and Easy Nature Hikes

Experience the otherworldly volcanic landscapes of Iceland's uninhabited interior. With a specially 4x4 mountain coach, travel off the beaten track through the untamed highlands of Iceland, highlighted by the multi-coloured mountains of the Landmannalaugar Nature Reserve and the barren black sands of Sprengisandur. When combined with other major attractions such as the Geysir geothermal area, Jokulsarlon Glacier Lagoon, and Dettifoss waterfall, this tour is sure to conquer the hearts of all first-time visitors, as well as those who have been here before.

- The tour includes some short, guided nature walks/hiking that let you experience more of Iceland's natural beauty.
- With our flexible itinerary there's always plenty of time to stop and experience the magnificence of Icelandic nature.
- Activity/Difficulty Level: 2 out of 5 (Easy)

- All departures are guaranteed with minimum of 2 participants
- Maximum group size: 19 people
- Excellent locally-based guides who know and are passionate about Iceland

Highlights

- Discover the beauty and power of Iceland's wilderness, an area that few travellers visit
- Visit beloved "must see" natural wonders of the Golden Circle region and the South Shore
- Enjoy short guided walks/hikes that give you more insights into natural wonders
- Get a taste of adventure with travel on unpaved mountain tracks in a specially-outfitted vehicle
- Relax with hot spring bathing in the natural springs of Landmannalaugar
- Take part in protecting Icelandic nature with a visit to Iceland Travel's Reforestation project
- Enjoy the benefits of a small-group tour
- Stay in comfortable standard three star hotels well-situated to experience Iceland's nature and wilderness

Travel Tips:

- We recommend comfortable trekking shoes/hiking shoes for this tour, as some of the walking is on unpaved surfaces.
- Some people like to bring hiking poles, though this is not a requirement
- We also suggest bringing a mosquito/fly head net for use on Day 7, as there can be harmless midges around Lake Myvatn. It's not required, but people often find it more comfortable.

ITINERARY

Day 1: Þingvellir National Park - Gullfoss - Geysir

Highlights: Gullfoss Geysir Thingvellir National Park UNESCO World Heritage site with Geological Wonders – The beautiful Golden Falls – Exploding Geysers – Iceland Travel’s Conservation Project

Approximate distance: 215 km (134 miles)

Transfer from pre-arranged bus stops in Reykjavík to the tour’s meeting point. Please check your confirmation for your pre-arranged bus stop in Reykjavík. Please be at the pre-arranged bus stop no later than 15 minutes before the pick-up time.

Make sure that your phone number and e-mail are listed so we can contact you if needed.

The first day begins with a visit to Thingvellir National Park, the ancient site of the world’s first parliament. Here you can see the dramatic continental drift between the North American and Eurasian tectonic plates. Your guide will share interesting facts about some of the interesting historical events that have happened at Thingvellir.

Gullfoss waterfall

An hour's drive away, visit the popular Geysir geothermal area. The most active geyser, Strokkur, shoots water high into the air every few minutes, but you'll also witness several other boiling pools and hot springs.

Next your group will take part in Iceland Travel's reforestation program, located in Haukadalur valley. You can help your group plant a total of five trees, which not only allows you to leave your mark in Iceland but also for your tour group to reduce your carbon footprint! Then you'll head onwards to Iceland's most popular waterfall, the impressive two-stage Gullfoss ("Golden Falls"). A series of easy footpaths leads around the waterfall, giving you the chance to get excellent views from different angles.

Dinner and overnight stay in Hvolsvollur area.
Approximate travel distance: ca279km / 173 miles

Skogafoss waterfall

Day 2: Vík - Dyrhólaey - Kirkjubæjarklaustur

*Highlights: Seljalandsfoss Myrdalsjokull Eyjafjallajokull Skogafoss Vík Dyrhólaey
Thundering Waterfalls – Seabird Colony – Black Sand Beaches of the South Shore – Lava Fields
Approximate distance: 185 km (115 miles)*

Breakfast at your hotel. Start the day by driving along the highway, making a stop at two impressive waterfalls; Seljalandsfoss and Skogafoss. Head to the black sand beaches to enjoy the far-reaching views from Dyrhólaey headland, where thousands of puffins and other seabirds' nest until mid-August. Enjoy a stop in the quaint village of Vík before crossing the Myrdalssandur volcanic ash outwash plains. The day ends after passing through the vast Eldhraun lava field, the world's largest recorded single lava flow in the last 10,000 years.

Dinner and overnight stay in Kirkjubæjarklaustur area for the next two nights.

Jökulsárlón Glacier lagoon

Day 3: Jökulsárlón - Skaftafell

Highlights: Jökulsárlón Glacial Lagoon Skaftafell National Park Hvannadalshnjukur Eldhraun Lava Field

Glacial Lagoon with Icebergs – Scenic Glacial Park – Europe’s Largest Glacier

Approximate distance: 255 km (158 miles)

Breakfast at your hotel. The day starts with a drive through beautiful scenery towards Vatnajökull, the largest glacier in Europe. You will also get a view of Hvannadalshnjukur, the country’s highest peak. The highlight of the day will surely be surely Jökulsárlón Glacial Lagoon, where huge icebergs dance around in icy seawater. Continuing on your way, pass by several outlet glaciers from Vatnajökull, visiting at least one of them. Along the route you also will get magnificent views of Skaftafell, a glacier-crowned wonderland within Vatnajökull National Park.

Dinner and overnight stay in the Vik area.

Landmannalaugar

Day 4: Vik – Landmannalaugar

Highlights: Landmannalaugar Thjorsardalur

Multi-colored Wilderness Mountains – Lava Fields – Hot Spring Bathing

Approximate distance: 140 km (87 miles)

Breakfast at your hotel. Today some of the roads will be bumpy since you’re on highland wilderness tracks, but it’s all part of the adventure and the views will be amazing! It’s now time to leave the asphalt behind and meander along the scenic and rugged Fjallabaksleid interior track to Landmannalaugar, an astonishing area surrounded by colorful rhyolite mountains. The surreal beauty of the uninhabited interior reveals deep valleys and sculptured mountains, many formed by volcanic eruptions that happened beneath glaciers during the Ice Age. After a nice walk in the nature reserve (optional), enjoy a relaxing bath in a warm brook created by the convergence of hot and cold springs. It’s an authentic Iceland experience!

Dinner and overnight stay in the Thjorsardalur area.

Sprensisandur highland road

Day 5: Sprengisandur Trail

Wild Heart of Iceland and Black Sand Desert

Approximate distance: 259 km (161 miles)

Breakfast at your hotel. Today wilderness adventure awaits! It's time to head north through the very heart of Iceland. Discover hidden treasures of Iceland's uninhabited interior along the Sprengisandur highland route, a vast, barren, black desert connecting Iceland's north and south. With only rough tracks and un-bridged glacial rivers, your group will rely on your experienced driver to navigate the rugged passage between the glaciers. This is a true taste of Iceland's wild side—bumpy roads and driving through rivers are a part of the amazing experience! (Note: If Sprengisandur is closed, your group will take the Kjolur highland route instead.)

Dinner and overnight stay in the Laugar/Lake Myvatn area for the next 2 nights.

Approximate travel distance: 300km / 185 miles

Magnificent Canyon – Europe's Mightiest Waterfall – Volcanic Wonderland

Approximate distance: 245 km / 152 miles

Breakfast at your hotel. Today you will visit the northern part of Vatnajokull National Park, as well as Lake Myvatn. Travel to the unforgettable Lake Myvatn area, a geological wonderland and paradise for bird watchers. Some of the most visually bizarre attractions in the region include the colorful boiling mud pits of Hverarond and the still-warm lava fields of Krafla volcano, teeming with lava flows, fissures and explosion craters. The journey continues to Dettifoss, Europe's most powerful waterfall, located in the awe-inspiring Jokulsargljufur canyon. Discover the impressive 100 meter (328 feet) high walls of the horseshoe-shaped canyon of Asbyrgi. According to Norse mythology, the canyon is the hoof-print left by Sleipnir, the magical eight-legged horse of the pagan god Odinn. Drive around the Tjornes peninsula, the northernmost point of your journey. In the afternoon drive to the town of Husavik where you have the option to experience the hot spring bath named GeoSea.

Dinner and overnight stay in the Lake Myvatn area.

Goðafoss waterfall

Day 8: Akureyri – Skagafjörður

Highlights: Godafoss Akureyri Skagafjordur Fjord

Waterfall “Of the Gods” – The Capital of the North – Scenic historical fjord

Approximate distance: 239 km (149 miles)

Breakfast at your hotel. Start the adventure today with a visit to Godafoss, one of the most impressive waterfalls in the country. (The name means “Waterfall of the Gods”,) Continue to Akureyri, the vibrant “Capital of the North”. Enjoy some free time to explore this colorful and charming town. Some activities might include a visit to the delightful botanical garden, a swim in the local geothermal pool, or perhaps enjoying the culture, art and fine food of the Listagil artists’ district.

The route then continues to the Skagafjordur area, known as the traditional heart of horse breeding in Iceland. This area also contains many historical sites from the classic Viking-age Sagas. Tonight, horseback riding on a purebred Viking horse might be an appealing option. Or simply enjoy a peaceful walk in the countryside around your hotel. S

Dinner and overnight stay in the Laugarbakki area.

Hvitserkur rock formation

Day 8: Hvammstangi – Vatnsnes Peninsula - Eirikstadir

Highlights: Vatnsnes Peninsula Eiriksstadir Viking Home Hvítserkur

Historical Farmlands – Mysterious Scenic Peninsula – Birthplace of Leif Eiriksson

Approximate distance: 215 km (134 miles)

Breakfast at your hotel. Your journey continues around Vatnsnes Peninsula, which contains the extraordinary rock formation of Hvitserkur, a 15 meter (49 feet) tall cliff jutting out straight from the sea. This off-the-beaten path peninsula is part of the newly designated Arctic Coast Way, which focuses on the enchanting and wild wonders that border the Arctic Circle. This is an area where the sea and the sky seem to meet together, and there are inspiring views far into the distance. You might also see seals resting close to the beach.

In the afternoon, drive through rolling farmlands and across Laxardalsheidi heath to the Viking Age house at the Eric the Red Museum. This was the original homestead of Eric the Red, as well as the birthplace of his son, Leifur Eiriksson. These men are two of the most legendary Vikings in the world. In a replica of a grass-roofed house, meet modern day Vikings who will show you the lifestyle from 1.000 years ago, sharing some of the crafts and knowledge.
